

TRUMAN REFUSES TO DELAY UNO PARLEY

BALK CIO, AT, SLEEP AT CYRUS SHOP

Evade Picket Lines, Say They'll Stay Inside Till Strike Ends.

By The Associated Press CYRUS, O., March 21—Andrew 33 employees of the second Crawford Steel Co., a breakfast of doughnuts and coffee, and the plant today and went to work after sleeping on rough factory benches and desks.
Employees, carrying groceries and blankets, entered the factory before 8 a. m. and announced they would stay inside until the two-month-old wage dispute was settled.
They reported they would also stay tonight in the plant and they had enough food to last for a week. No additional pickets were placed around the plant as a result of yesterday's incident.
Edward Dunahay, a production man, reported by telephone from the plant today that the men spent an "uneventful and comfortable night" sleeping on factory benches and office desks.
They worked all day yesterday and enjoyed a baked ham with all the trimmings last night.
Use Coke for Fuel
We brewed our coffee on imvised hot plates, using coke fuel," Dunahay said.
He said work had progressed to such a point that they expect to have some metal today. S. Mc-Cormick, general manager, said he predicted the factory could do 50 per cent of production today by tomorrow.
McCormick said he knew of no plans for feeding and housing the men, but Dunahay said that foremen permitted pickets to enter and leave the plant as they wished.
He said plans were under way to bring in cots for sleeping compensation of operations. Clinical began last month with publication in a daily newspaper of a man saying undersigned employees no longer wish to be represented by the CIO. The man bore the names of 132 workers, but more than a score withdrew their names, saying they had been misled.

WIS PRESSING FOR FINE WELFARE FUND

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, March 21—
L. Lewis is hammering away today on his demand that mining coal operators create a health and welfare fund for the miners' 400,000 miners.
The bushy-browed chief of United Mine Workers, who said "reiled threats that the miners will strike April 1 if their demands are not met, still held to his uncompromising statement of vir-tualizing the wage and hour struggle he seeks.
A strategy appeared to be to pressure producers to advance a plan for dealing with the miners' demands. Lewis has made no decision himself. A year ago when he was understanding for a $60,000,000 union health welfare fund, he followed the strategy.
Lewis finally abandoned his demand last spring, but operators say they consider the proposal as a demand for a cent, or something like that, after David Duggan

FARM OUTPUT DROP FORECAST

Less Meats, Milk and Poultry Seen, But Rationing Not Likely To Come.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, March 21—The nation's farms appeared likely today to turn out less meats, milk and poultry products for the next 15 months or so.
But the reduction apparently will not be serious enough to force a return to rationing.
An agriculture department survey on farmers' 1946 planting intentions indicates that livestock feed grain supplies, already far short of requirements, may continue below demands for a year after this season's crops are harvested.
The present shortage of corn and other feed supplies is forcing many farmers to curtail production of meat animals, poultry and dairy products.
See Good Wheat Crop
On the other hand, the supply of bread grains, also far below demands of domestic consumers and of famine-plagued areas abroad, appears likely to be restored by another bumper wheat crop.
Should this crop turn out as favorably as now indicated, it might be possible for the government to end its present wheat conservation program by late summer. Thus the edict for darker flour and bread could be lifted without curtailing grain shipments to hungry areas abroad.

SENATORS FLARE UP AT VARDAMAN PROBE

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, March 21—Senators McFarland (D-Ariz.) and Donnell (R-Mo.) engaged in a heated exchange today over conduct of the senate hearing on the nomination of Commodore James K. Vardaman Jr. for the federal reserve board of governors.
When Donnell interrupted during an argument between Frank O. Bittner Jr., St. Louis, Mo., shoe manufacturer, and McFarland, and said the senator was not allowing the witness to "answer questions fully," McFarland replied:
"I'm running this hearing. I don't propose to let you interfere." As Bittner resumed sworn testimony, McFarland began cross-examining the shoe manufacturer about testimony yesterday that Commodore Vardaman now the President's naval aide, had "defrauded" Bittner in a stock sale involving the Vardaman Shoe Co. of St. Louis which was reorganized in bankruptcy.
Charles Padden Asserting that Bittner said the Vardaman Shoe Co.'s inventory was "padded and plugged" and that he first had learned of this about Jan. 30, 1942, McFarland tried to show Bittner actually knew of inventory "inaccuracies" 10 days before that.
McFarland read from minutes of directors meeting of the Vardaman Co. which he said showed "inventory inaccuracies" on Jan.
16, at the time Bittner bought Vardaman's stock.
Yesterday the committee heard testimony including references to buried statements, a farm mortgage and a "jimmied" file cabinet as it inquired into past business transactions of Vardaman.
Chairman McFarland read into the record a telegram from William R. Gentry, St. Louis lawyer, denying that Federal Judge George H. Moore had asked Gentry to dismiss a suit for $2,804 against Vardaman's bonding company.

in bankruptcy, told him: (Bittner)

Eisenhower Asks Extension of Draft Law Indefinitely

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, March 21—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower asked congress today to extend the draft law indefinitely and to limit service liability of inductees to 18 months.
If that is done, the chief of staff told the house military committee, the Army can release all fathers by the end of August or early September regardless of how long they have been in service.
It is not done, he warned, the Army may fall short by 165,000 men of its estimated needed strength of 1,070,000 on July 1, 1947.
Both Eisenhower and Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson argued against proposals for a shorter extension of the Selective Service act, which expires May 15 of this year.
"Should the Selective Service act not be continued and establish and sustain a volunteer army of the requisite size?" Patterson said, "the military position of this country, and therefore our ability to preserve the peace we have won, would become precarious." Patterson told the committee that extension of the draft should be coupled with a 20 per cent overall increase in pay and allowances for all military personnel.
While Eisenhower said the shortage in manpower requirements of the Army would be 165,000 by July 1, 1947, Patterson estimated the shortage at 170,000 men if the draft law is not extended.
The secretary said present Army strength is about 2,500,000, with a reduction of one million expected between now and next June. He said the war department intends to continue a vigorous recruitment program, and already there have been 617,- 000 enlistments, more than half of them for a three-year period.
The top Army men were also to appear before a closed session of the senate military committee to testify on the draft extension.
Secretary of State Byrnes and Navy Secretary Forrestal also may be heard.
A possible compromise being considered by house committee members would extend the law

GOERING DENIES ATROCITY ROLE

Declares He Knew Nothing of Camp Deaths; Blames Himmler.

By The Associated Press
NUERNBERG, Germany, March 21—Hermann Goering swore today that he knew nothing of German concentration camp slaughters.
"Even Hitler didn't know approximately what went on because Himmler (head of Gestapo) always kept these things extremely secret," the leading defendant of 22 Nazis on trial for war crimes told the international military tribunal.
Goering, still sharp in his seventh day on the stand, was emphatic as he sought to place the blame for camp horrors on the Gestapo chief, who committed suicide after capture.
"You mean to say that even when the kretschmers were informed of the concentration camps that you, as second man of the Reich, didn't know?" asked British Prosecutor Sir David Maxwell-Fyfe. "Didn't your friend Himmler inform you?"
Goering bristled and answered:
"That is true. These things were kept from me. —and I object to your designating Him-mler as my friend."
Sir David attacked Goering's claim of ignorance by introducing a secret document, an order issued to kretschmers of Hesse-Nassau, Feb. 10, 1945, directing them to destroy all camps "installations and records of concentration camps." Goering reiterated he had no prior knowledge of Hitler's order to execute 50 RAF officers for escaping a prison camp in March, 1944, and had no power to prevent the killings.

Weatherman Gives Spring Right Kind of Welcome Today

(More about spring on page 17) Spring officially arrived in Marion at 12:33 a. m. today and brought with it temperatures which rose to 61 degrees by was 63.

The mercury started with a low of 31 this morning and climbed steadily under a warm sun and clear sky. Maximum temperature for a year ago to-

For weather observers spring is known as the vernal equinox and starts when the sun's center crosses the equator.

Truman Voices Hope Rationing Not Needed

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, March 21—
President Truman today expressed the hope that a return to wartime food rationing would not be necessary. But he said he would not object to a return should it become absolutely essential.
He made these observations in response to questions which followed a reference to the plans for famine relief abroad.

Stimson Reveals U. S. Rejected 1941 Surprise War on Japan

By The Associated Press
Former Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson has disclosed that President Roosevelt's "war cabinet" discussed and rejected Japan's demand for a "sudden surprise attack" on the United States in 1941.
Stimson recounted this in a statement sent to the senate committee investigating Japan's surprise blow on Dec. 7, 1941. The committee made its public today.
Stimson related that on the morning of Friday, Nov. 29, 1941, he received a message from the secretary of the War Relocation Authority, which was then headed by the Japanese-American community leader, Mr. Minnie Tani. Tani was a "Japanese-American" who had been detained in the Japanese-American internment camps.
Stimson said that Tani's message was that the Japanese government was planning a surprise attack on the United States in 1941.

GM CALLS FEW BACK AS UNION GATHERS

By The Associated Press
DETROIT, March 21—General Motors Corp. today prepared to call maintenance men and construction workers back into its plants idle for 121 days as union leaders, now gathering in Atlantic City, N. J., predicted a speedy settlement of local grievances delaying a general return to work.
Walter P. Reuther, vice president of the CIO United Auto Workers, who arrived there late yesterday for an executive board meeting that will precede the union's convention opening Saturday, said he believed local issues could be settled within a week.
The company was informed by the union that the tentative peace agreement had been ratified officially, but announced it would not respond to plans until receiving official word from the UAW that all locals representing 175, 000 production workers "were ready to return."
General Motors' move to resume work was a surprise, consid-

IRAN ORDERS 19-YEAR-OLDS INTO SERVICE

Move Comes As 3 Forts Are Besieged by Revolving Kurds.

By The Associated Press TEHRAN, March 21—Iran's 19-year-olds were summoned to the colors today in the wake of reports that three Iranian army garrisons were under attack by Kurdish tribesmen in the isolated region near the border of Iraq.
At the same time, leaders of Iran's leftist Tudeh party were called into private session and rightist elements expressed belief the Tudeh party might lead leftist demonstrations against the government because of its appeal to the United Nations security council against continued presence of Russian troops in Iran.
Anti-Russian Arrested Rightist Deputy Said Zia Ed-din, described by political writers as anti-Russian, and generally known as a leading opponent of Premier Ahmed Qavam Es Saltaneh, was taken into custody yesterday by two men in the uniform of Iranian army colonels.
Zia Ed-din told newsmen: "I think they are arresting me because I am not liked by the Russians."
Prince Firouz, director of propaganda and political undersecretary of state, said the deputy was "put under preventive detention pending investigation of certain charges" on orders of Premier Ahmed Qavam.
The army, in announcing the detention of 19-year-olds, said men in the 22 to 23 year age bracket were being deferred.
(In Washington, the Iranian embassy said the army normally consisted of men 20 to 22 years of age, with training with those over 22 moving into reserve classes.) Balked by Kurds An Iranian general staff official said heavy snow prevented reinforcement of the three garrisons besieged by Kurds in the Northwest, but he added, seven Iranian planes were trying to keep the garrisons from being cut off from divisional headquarters.
He said 3,000 tribesmen were engaged in the attacks against the garrisons at Sardasht, Bane and Saqqiz, which "loyal" Kurds had engaged "democrats" of self-proclaimed autonomous Azerbaijan province, which is occupied by Russian Press Hits Iran Reactionaries is perfectly obvious that con-ary circles in Iran may lead only to further sharpening of the situation in the country.

"Among Iranian political leaders there are not a few persons who acknowledge the necessity for changes in foreign and internal policy," Izvestia added.
"These changes have really ripened and are directed by the interests of the Iranian people."

Senators Want To Give UNO Try at Crisis

Pepper's Call for Big 3 Parley Meets Cool Response from U. S. Leaders.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, March 21—
Senators who heard their colleague, Claude Pepper (D-Fla.), call for a hurried but all-inclusive conference of Russian, American and British leaders appeared inclined today to give UNO first chance at relaxing international tension.
Three reasons lay behind their choice.
1. The United Nations organization was founded for that very purpose.
2. The UNO security council is scheduled to meet in New York next Monday. Hence there would be insufficient time to arrange a meeting such as Pepper suggested in advance of that date.
3. The widely-varying make-up of the group Pepper urged in his foreign policy speech from the senate floor yesterday.
Dilates Style
One influential member of the foreign relations committee who asked not to be named said an assembly which included not only the heads of the three governments, but military, business, labor, farm and veterans' leaders would be "a camp meeting" which might cause more trouble than it should.
A similar view was expressed by Senator Alexander (D-La.).
"I don't see that much good would come out of a Big Three conference," he told a reporter.
"We've had them before (on a smaller scale) and it seems that everybody misunderstands everybody else. I'd rather see things worked out through the United Nations Organization." Senator Acheson (D-Vt.) said a Big Three meeting "might help."
"Certainly we can accomplish more sitting around a table talking their standing off a long distance and throwing rocks."
"But," Acheson added, "the UNO must be made to work." Pepper's colleagues were chary of discussing for quotation some of his other proposals, such as destruction of atomic bombs and plants for making them, and for a loan to Russia or "any other power meeting reasonable conditions." Privately, some senators

Homma To Die by Firing Squad

MacArthur Decrees Doom of Bataan General, Blasts Judge's Comments.

By The Associated Press
TOKYO, March 21—General MacArthur today decreed a firing squad death for Lt. Gen.
Tomoyuki Homma, his victorious foe in the 1942 battle for Bataan, and disagreed sharply with two supreme court justices dissenting one of whom had termed the sentence vengeance rather than justice.
Details and details of the execution, which now could be stayed only by President Truman, will be determined in Manila.
Affirming the Manila court martial conviction of Homma, who ordered the infamous Bataan death march that cost 17,000 lives, MacArthur asserted:
"It is this defendant does not respond to his judicial fate, does not acknowledge his responsibility, does not show any remorse." Before announcing his decision, MacArthur studied writings expressed by Supreme Court Justices Murphy and Rutledge, who disagreed when the court refused to intervene for Homma. Murphy had denounced Homma's trial as a descent to the level of revengeful blood-purge.
MacArthur declared "no trial could be fairer" and said dissenting justices "are indulging in process above fact, realism, or liberty. They shrink from the stern rigidity of capital punishment."
Wesley Harahashi, chief cabinet secretary, said he and the Japanese people agreed to the justice of MacArthur's decision.
MacArthur's decision was declared "the Japanese people and the Japanese government agree and support it." Harahashi said "the Japanese now know that a commanding general even if he himself doesn't issue orders, must assume responsibility for illegal acts of his subordinates."

SAYS U. S. WILL BUCK RUSSIAN PLEA FOR TIME

Early Action on Iran's Case To Be Sought at UNO Conference Monday.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, March 21—
President Truman declared flatly today that Monday's scheduled meeting of the United Nations security council will not be postponed.
Mr. Truman told his news conference that the United States delegation will press for action on the Iranian case.
Soviet Ambassador Andrei A.
Gromyko said shortly after Mr.
Truman's statement that any hasty action by the United Nations security council on the Iranian dispute merely would complicate it.
Confers with Byrnes Gromyko talked with reporters at the state department after a hurriedly arranged 20-minute conference with secretary Byrnes on the Soviet request for a 16-day delay.
The Soviet ambassador, who returned unexpectedly last night from New York, declined to tell newsmen what he said to Byrnes, but he reiterated that Russia believes the Iranian case unquestionably should be delayed because negotiations are now under way between Iran and Russia.
Asked in what way these negotiations are taking place he replied they were being carried on through diplomatic channels and that for the security council to take any hasty action now would complicate the situation.
On another phase of the Iranian case, Gholam Abbas Aram, first secretary of the Iranian embassy, conferred at length with officials of the state department's middle eastern division, but did not disclose the nature of his talks.
Indications were, however, that he made clear to them that Ambassador Huseini Ahi, representing the government of Premier Ahmed Qavam was hoping and working for a prompt hearing of Iran's appeal for security council help in getting Russian troops out of the country.
The Soviets have asked for a 16-day delay on the ground they need time to prepare their answer.
Wait and See Reminded of the Russian request for a postponement, the President was asked what will happen Monday if the Soviets insist on their plea.
The President told his questioner he had better attend the meeting and find out.
Mr. Truman again announced that he was not seeking another meeting of the "Big Three" to deal with differences between Russia and other members of the United Nations.
The United Nations Organization, he said, is supposed to take over things that formerly were discussed by the Big Three.
A three-power conference was suggested in the senate yesterday by Senator Pepper (D-Fla.).
Mr. Truman told newsmen he would be glad to see any or all members of the UNO at any time.
He simply is not asking for a Big Three meeting.
The President said Secretary of State Byrnes will carry to Manila a session in New York. His own (Mr. Truman's) address of welcome.
It was Gromyko who yesterday filed a request with UNO Secretary General Trygve Lie for a postponement of the security council meeting from next Monday to April 10, on grounds that Russia had been surprised by first a request for council consideration of its case against the Soviet Union.
In light of the Iranian action, Gromyko said, he needed time to prepare Russia's side of the dispute.
The sharply divergent Soviet and American views on the crisis at the United Nations last night came out simultaneously yesterday from the offices temporarily in Washington of UNO Secretary General Trygve Lie.
A check of diplomatic officials showed that when Gromyko mailed his letter Tuesday night and when a letter from the Ameri-

BUILDING TO GO UP ON WEST CENTER ST.Structure at Olney Avenue To House Sandwich Shop.

Excavating has been completed at West Center street and Olney avenue and construction will be begun soon on a building to house a sandwich shop.

The building will be constructed and the shop operated by Ludwig and Kibbey of Springfield. It will be known as the "L. and K. Sandwich Shop." A building permit taken out today by Robert E. The walls will be constructed of hollow tile. It will be a fireproof building, Ludwig and Kibbey now operate two sandwich shops in Delaware.

The site was formerly occupied by a gasoline station which has been abandoned for some time. For many years the site was occupied by the old Wesley Methodist church.

Shaking Heads and Human Liberties

It's a funny thing. Now that the war's over, there's a lot of head-shaking in our town. People saying: "What's the younger generation coming to?" "How can we end these strikes?" "The country's going to the dogs!" "There ought to be a law!" etc.

But when the younger generation was walloping the Axis "superman"—and labor was doing the most colossal job in history—you never heard a murmur. But now that we're back to our traditional life of personal liberty, just see how the heads begin to shake again. I guess there'll always be head-shakers—folks who feel "there ought to be a law"—who believe that the best form of regulation is suppression, whether it's applied to beer or baseball.

But from where I sit, America's done pretty well with the idea of personal choice and individual liberty. I guess that's just the way Americans are made.

OHIOANS WARNED TO GUARD WAR SAVINGS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., March 21—The governor's committee for conservation of wartime earnings says Ohioans with their $12 billion in savings must be taught alertness against fraudulent and get-rich-quick investment schemes.

The committee, composed of 24 business and civic leaders, at a meeting here yesterday with Gov. Frank J. Lausche launched a campaign to reach as many Ohioans as possible through community and veterans organizations and trade associations.

Three subcommittees were named by Lausche to study the real estate situation and to prepare educational programs for local communities. Law enforcement agencies will be asked to prosecute promoters of schemes to dupe the public.

H. C. Hudson of Wilmington, president of the Ohio Bankers' association, said most financial institutions are refusing loans on highly-inflated properties which individuals were eager to buy.

David M. Brown, state commander of the Disabled American Veterans said the greatest waste of veterans' savings "occurs in the saloons."

Most of the rackets to get easy money are tied out on the Negroes, he said, and the Negro groups if successful, said Prosecutor Maynard Dickerson of Youngstown.

Blittner added that the judge "was an intimate friend of Vardaman."

Asked Fund Return
The withdrawn suit asked return of funds that had been paid to Commodore Vardaman as president of the shoe company.

Senator Donnell (R-Mo) read a memorandum late yesterday which said that Vardaman and which said that Vardaman and Frank Williams, attorney for Blittner, stepped "into a toilet room" on Williams' law office in St. Louis and burned "two signed statements."

This was done, Donnell said, to "settle Blittner's claim" against Vardaman involving the sale of 375 shares of stock in the Vardaman Shoe Co.

Donnell said the signed statements were given by Vardaman "on Clifford's advice" gave Blittner a mortgage on a farm owned by Vardaman. Navy Capt. Clark Gifford is Vardaman's assistant as naval aide and has been serving as his counsel at the hearings.

The "jimmied" file case was referred to by Blittner as having contained an inventory which employees later told him was "padding."

Delay in Vote Seen on 65-Cent Wage Bill

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, March 21—Leaders of senate factions scrapping over the administration's 65-cent minimum wage legislation were reported today to have reached an informal understanding to hold off all voting until next Wednesday.

Several senators are out of town. In addition, senate leaders have been trying to work out a compromise. They lack the votes to put over the administration program without change.

The administration measure provides for boosting the statutory minimum wage from 40 to 65 cents an hour immediately and eventually to 75 cents.

A working combination of Republicans and southern Democrats is pushing a counterproposal for a boost to 55 cents now and to 60 cents after 18 months.

Piles

Are Never "Mild"

DANGER IN NEGLECT

No one should ever think of piles (hemorrhoids) as a "mild" disorder.

Although they may seem a "mild" ailment, especially when not giving pain or inconvenience, piles are in fact tumors of the rectum with tendency to heal themselves; instead, they are likely, if neglected to keep increasing in size, involving more and more of the rectal area.

Even a so-called "mild" case may be expected to undermine one's health, by inviting, predisposing to or aggravating other ailments, such as indigestion, biliousness, stomach troubles, constipation, headaches, pain in back and down the legs, secondary anemia with its run-down tired feeling, and general nervous irritability.

Removal of piles is the only permanent relief—written guarantee. My method produces little or no discomfort, does not require the use of knife or drugs, and seldom is the patient required to lose any time from work or other duties.

Why not call and learn of this method? The examination is free.

Coming of Spring Brings Critical Time To Europe

By HENRY MACKENZIE
World Traveler

On 21 — Europe's which former President here to investigate, undoubtedly grimaced as it is by here is hunger, one of the world, the difficulties of the relief to this early summer are critical time. This mal times. The discouraging fact is that misfortune is alarming the farmhands like an army of locusts, making certain that the fall harvest will be far short of the customary yield in most areas. The early vegetables will brighten the situation but this will be a comparatively slight and passing relief.

Fertilizer Is Scarce

One of the worst handicaps is a great shortage of fertilizer. The soil already is impoverished for lack of nitrates which were converted to war purposes, and now the nitrate plants aren't functioning. There is an even worse trial in the scarcity of seed, especially grain.

There is a great scarcity of farm implements, owing partly to destruction wrought in the war and partly to curtailment of the manufacture of such tools. And then, of course, the conflict has robbed thousands upon thousands of farms of the sturdy youths who were their mainstay.

Even if crops were normal, there still would be great problems to meet. One of these is the feeding of the displaced persons who have been moved in huge numbers about the continent.

Even if there were food enough in Europe to meet requirements, still it would be impossible to distribute it readily because of the disorganization of transport and the lack of rolling stock.

The great drought of last year in western Europe has added vastly to the current food shortage. Big producers like Spain and France found their fields parched for lack of rain, and crops tumbled to far below normal. In ordinary times such a crisis could be met by imports from the United States.

Livestock Stripped

Quite apart from the matter of crops, there is another disaster which the countries occupied by the Germans have suffered. The ill-timed robbery of livestock of all sorts, France, Holland, Belgium, and other countries were stripped of cows, sheep and pigs, and along with these went the all-important work-horses. It is true that some parts of Germany are now better off for livestock than are the pillaged countries. For this reason part of the farming areas of the Reich are doing fairly well for food despite the shortage of grain and vegetables. That is small solace to the urban districts, however.

Calls for Report On Baseball Ticket Sale

Grand Knight Joseph Dunn urged all members to make a report on the number of baseball tickets sold and also to support the Marion entry in the Ohio State League at a meeting of Marion Council No. 671, Knights of Columbus, Tuesday night. Announcement was made of the state convention to be held at Cincinnati May 18, 19 and 20, and Thomas E. Andrews, state secretary, announced that the state outing will be held at Cedar Point Aug. 9, 10 and 11. Dr. Jerome Brown and Eugene Maxwell, members who have been serving in the armed forces, were welcomed into the council's activities. Plans were discussed for an Easter dance and will be furthered at the next meeting.

The Young Women's Christian Association was formed in 1894.

THE FIRST TELEPHONE—
1876—Today's telephone is a far cry from this crude instrument which transmitted the first telephone message 70 years ago, when Alexander Graham Bell spoke from the attic of a Boston boarding-house. America has seen this invention grow from a laboratory curiosity to a modern, every-day necessity in many millions of homes and places of business.

Yesterday for a questionnaire period concerning views of members on a possible affiliation with a national business and professional women's organization, it was voted to continue the discussion two more meetings.

temperate the character of that war before they stumble in any first-tier. The Russians must realize that we can blockade them and that we can destroy from the air their chief centers of industrial production. They can never make themselves invulnerable to the long-range bomber carrying the atomic bomb. Nothing they can do in Iran, Turkey, or Manchuria will offer them any defense.

On the other hand, it is so important for us to realize that the atomic bomb could not guarantee a victory, and we must even promise a victory. It is as certain as anything can be in military science that the danger a country is the less vulnerable it is to the blitzkrieg. No atomic bombardment could destroy only the industrial means of supplying it.

The Russian defense to atomic attack is, therefore, self-evident. It is to overrun continental Europe with infantry, and defy us to drop atomic bombs on Poland, Czechoslovakia, Austria, Switzerland, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Sweden.

The more we threaten to demolish Russian cities, the more obvious it is that the Russian defense would be to ensnare themselves in Europe, which we could not demolish without massacring hundreds of thousands of our own friends. And then, where would Britain be? Of all the powers in the world, Britain

TRUMAN NOT TO REVEAL CANDIDACY IN SPEECH

Says Jackson Day Banquet Not to Bring Tip-off.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, March 21.—President Truman said today he would make no announcement on Saturday night that he will be a candidate for reelection in 1948. The Chief Executive is scheduled to speak then to a Jackson day dinner sponsored by the Democratic national committee. He told a news conference it would be a political speech. But he replied in the negative and with a chuckle an inquiry whether he would announce at the time his candidacy for reelection.

Politics figured in the news conference at another point when Mr. Truman was asked whether he agreed with Secretary of Commerce Wallace that party members who get out of line should be disciplined.

The President laughed and said that he and Wallace never had discussed that. But it is necessary, he added, "to hold the party in power in line to get its program over."

The President remarked that he would have no objection to Republicans joining with Democrats in putting over progressive measures. In fact, he said he would be happy to have them do it.

French War Bride of Marion Veteran Here from Paris

The French bride of Alfred M. Davis of 322 Park boulevard, the former Miss Jeanette Barber of Paris, has arrived in Marion after driving from New York with her husband. She arrived in New York from Le Havre last Thursday aboard the SS General Goethals with 413 GI brides and 20 children from France, Belgium and Luxembourg.

The former GI and his wife will make their home for the time being with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Davis of the Park boulevard address. The young Mrs. Davis will not have to overcome the language barrier in her new country, since she speaks English. She only has trouble understanding Americans when they speak rapidly. Mr. Davis' mother said today. She finds the food here strange after French cooking, but made the universal comment of GI brides on the friendliness and informality of the people here.

The Davises were married at the English Reformed church in Paris Sept. 8 last year. They had known each other several months, having met at a dance. Mrs. Davis was an employee of the French government.

Banquet To Honor Claridon Cagers

In a meeting of the Claridon Community club Wednesday night at the school, a banquet for the basketball team of the school was planned for April 24 at Hotel Harding. The team was county winner this year. Lawrence Kline presided for business. A program in charge of Miss Lois Roberts included music by the "Conecord band," a group of women of the community; piano selections, Mrs. Cecil Davis; readings, Mrs. Roberta Carey; piano duets, Mrs. Helen Shelton and daughter Ann, and Mrs. Davis and Joan Smith.

The winners were:
Claudette Colbert, screen; Maggi McNellis, commentator; Mrs. Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, the former Jeanne Murray, society; Kitty Carlisle, supper clubs; Rep. Helen Gahagan Douglas (D-Calif.), public life; Ann Delfino, director of the Dubarry Success School, business; Hildegarde, radio.

Miss Sheridan and Mrs. Thornton were the only two last year's winners on this year's list.

mark the lowest ebb of depravity of modern times. There are few parallels in infamy and tragedy with the brutalization of troops who in good faith had laid down their arms.

Praises U. S. Troops

Of the men of Bataan, their former leader said: "Of all fighting men of all time, none deserved more the honors of war in their final hour of final agony. The callousness of the denial never has been exceeded."

Homma's 18-year-old daughter Hisako tearfully told Japanese newspapermen a "true verdict of God" would exonerate her father. "Today's verdict is of human making, not of God's," said Hisako, speaking for her mother, confined to bed with influenza.

A friend of Homma, Nishihashi said that when Homma was on trial at Manila, the general sent him this message:

"I know I cannot escape the death sentence. I have failed to fulfill my task with justice and charity. Now I do not blame anybody. What I think now is I want to go—the earlier the better—to the place where Japanese soldiers fell and where American soldiers sleep. I must apologize to God for all my sins."

Willis Wants Change

Where Pepper urged tolerance for Russia's position in the world and an attempt to understand her problems, another senator advocated a sterner course in a speech last night.

Senator Raymond Willis (R-Ind.) told the Sons of the American Revolution that we ought to "stop sending both notes and goods to Russia."

"Russia is able to carry out these aggressive moves because America furnished her with billions in lend-lease materials without getting a clear agreement in advance," Willis said. "Russia is not nearly so strong as she might seem to be, and our tacit support of many of the things she has done so far has been her biggest single weapon."

Bulgarian Cabinet To Submit Resignation

By The Associated Press

SOFIA, March 21.—The Bulgarian government headed by Premier Kimon Georgiev announced today that its resignation would be submitted to parliament today—a move interpreted in some quarters as opening the way for broadening the cabinet in accordance with the Moscow agreement of December, 1945.

Other observers, noting that the step followed several days of "bargaining" for portfolios, predicted that the resignation would result only in a reshuffle of ministries among the fatherland front parties now in power.

An agreement reached by the Big Three foreign ministers during their Moscow conference last December called for inclusion of two representatives of the opposition in the Bulgarian cabinet as the price for U. S. and British recognition of Bulgaria.

"Axis Sally" To Be Tried for Treason

By The Associated Press

BERLIN, March 21.—Justice department representatives informed a woman accused as Berlin's "Axis Sally" today that she is to be taken to the United States and charged with treason.

The 37-year-old Portland, Maine, native, identified by American military government officials as Mildred Gillars, has been under arrest in Zellendorf since Friday night. In an interview today she referred to herself persistently as "Axis Sally" and told reporters:

"My conscience is clear, I have nothing to hide."

"Sally," whose jeering voice once was beamed nightly from Berlin to homesick GIs in North Africa and later in Europe, is spending her time playing casino with her guards and writing a personal account of her adventures.

FINAL LABOR BILL ACTION FAR DISTANT

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Final congressional action—if any—on strike control legislation appears today to be months off. Chairman Murray (D-Mont.) told reporters the bill approved by the senate labor committee probably would not come up for floor debate until such matters as the British loan, housing legislation and extension of the OPA have been settled.

Adding to the uncertainty as to whether any strike control bill will be enacted is the wide difference between the measure produced by the senate committee and the one already passed by the house.

The senate bill provides:

1. A federal mediation board which would try to avert strikes by mediation and conciliation.

2. A ban on use of violence or threats to prevent farmers from transporting perishable farm commodities or to force them to make any payment to a labor organization.

The house measure, on the other hand, includes prohibitions against violence in strikes, permits suits against unions for violations of contracts, and exempts supervisory employees from the National Labor Relations act.

Ohio Nylon-Tossing Candidate To Drop New Auto from Air

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, March 21.—Pocketbook-losing, nylon-tossing Albert Edward Payne has a couple of new projects in the air—literally.

One very definite project is to make a speech from the courthouse steps in every Ohio county before May 7. He has hired a pilot to get him around. Ohio has 28 counties, each with courthouse, complete with steps.

The other, not so definite, is to drop a new automobile, size and make still undetermined, from an airplane into a haystack, or maybe let it down by parachute. The idea would be to give the automobile to the first reason to reach it.

Payne is the Springfield business man who is a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor. His slant on the campaign is that he is not much good at the time-honored political tactic of baby-kissing, so he thinks up stunts to attract attention.

His first stunt was to "lose" 150 pocketbooks here, each containing a dollar bill.

His idea for dropping 150 pairs of free nylons from an airplane into a Cleveland park struck a snag when he couldn't get a plane and pilot, a circumstance which he blamed on "northern Ohio politicians." So he tossed the nylons from a park shelterhouse roof.

It's the Same Old Story in New Setting As Spring Arrives

By AUSTIN E. SHOWMAN

Today it's spring. And when it's spring in Marion county many things may happen, and do.

Some young men's fancies turn to thoughts of love. Marriage licenses issued in probate court average almost two a day, with 38 licenses issued during the first 20 days of March. Two persons recently applied for a license to remarry after being divorced for 10 years.

Some other men's fancies seemingly turn to thoughts of love for somebody else. Thirty divorces have been granted in common pleas court this month. Five petitions for divorce were filed yesterday.

There are those who are paying property taxes. County Auditor Harry V. Mounts reports nearly 150 persons a day are filing tax returns in his office.

For many veterans it is their first spring at home in several years. Many are now working, but at least 200 have asked the United States Employment Service to assist them in locating jobs. Many veterans will be voting for the first time in the May primary and are checking their voting status with the board of elections.

Farmers are plowing and discing for oats and getting their fields ready for spring planting. Already baby chicks and little lambs have made their appearances and sheep shearing has started. Some farmers are awaiting their turns for purchasing new implements such as tractors, combines and corn plows.

For a few, it is the time of year to return to the neighbor's snow shovel and borrow the lawn mower.

er and garden tools. With present food shortages, victory gardens are still in vogue, according to Frank G. Montgomery, AAA chairman.

Sportsmen are beginning to think about that old fishing hole and are buying 1946 fishing licenses.

But the average citizen went to work this morning worrying about everything from the situation in Iran to buying butter and nylon and forgot all about today being the first day of spring, "even as you and I."

PROSPEROUS FARMER SEEN AS PEACE BASIS

Farm Bureau Official Speaks to U.S.D.A. Council Here.

Speaking to members and guests of the United States department of agriculture council at Detrick's Inn last night Herbert Evans of Columbus, personnel director of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, placed the future success of world peace and national prosperity in the hands of American agriculture.

The former Columbia university professor declared, "Intelligent farmers offer more to America today than any other group. My plea is for an understanding and an open mind for solving the problems of the nation."

In asking for international cooperation, Mr. Evans stressed the "smallness" of the world today, and said agricultural prosperity during the next few years would depend largely on feeding a starving Europe. He discussed the potentialities of the atomic bomb in future world relations and called "decent people" the one defense against it.

In solving our national difficulties, Mr. Evans pointed out there must be an understanding between labor and the farmers and between racial and religious groups. "The nervous, upset state in which America has found itself following the war is a dangerous thing," he said.

Mr. Evans' address was made to a group of 17 farmers, and other leaders of the Marion community, Frank G. Montgomery, chairman of the council, presided.

Next meeting of the council will be April 11, with John Hull of Louisville, Ky., representative of the Farm Credit Administration, the principal speaker.

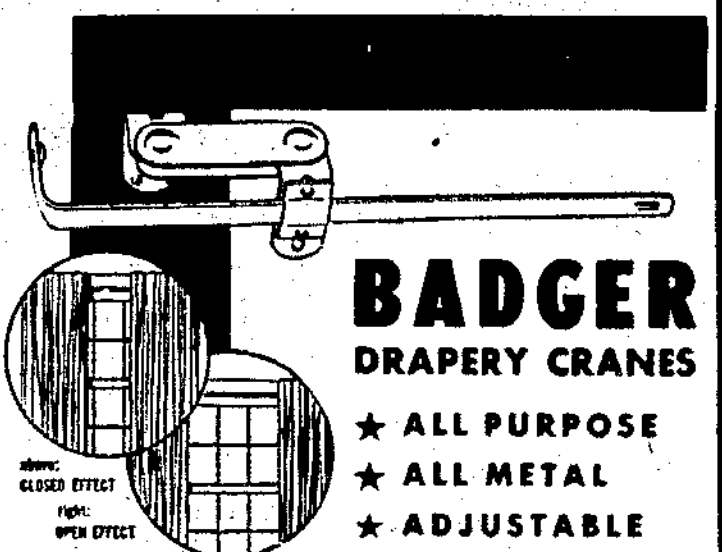

The agricultural council includes representatives from the county agent's office, the AAA office, the Marion Rural Electric Cooperative, the Federal Land Bank, the Farm Security Administration and the Production Credit Association.

King Zog Learns Cairo Has Housing Problem

By HAL BOYLE

CAIRO, March 21—Egyptian oddities: There is no royal road to a good apartment in Cairo. Even kings find the housing shortage a problem.

King Zog of Albania, his queen and her four sisters were forced to entertain King Farouk of Egypt in a hotel suite after the Albanian royal party came from London to Cairo, where they may make their home.

They are living temporarily in hotel quarters until royal scouts can locate an apartment. . . . American babies ride in push buggies. Japanese babies ride pickback in pith helmet style. So do Chinese babies. . . . But in Egypt babies ride side saddle—on their mother's shoulders with their arms clasped around her neck. . . . So many orthodox Moslems married women, particularly of the uneducated class, wear black dresses and veils that make them look like black cats. . . . They were in mourning. . . . These very ladies, whose religion forbids them wearing their features to strangers, pin veils to their faces with a bronze or gold metal clasp that fastens on the nose like a metal clothes pin. . . . Household crockery is still scarce—so scarce that in some places you are served water in glasses made by cutting down beer bottles. You have to drink carefully to keep from gashing your initials in your lips. . . . Cairo is one of the most cosmopolitan cities in the world and quite modern in most respects. If you have money to buy it and time to search it out you can find almost any 20th century product.

Yet within a day's ride by motor car are villages which live by the same social customs and codes that ruled their ancestors ten centuries ago. . . . One of the most conservative of these tribes is the Hawarah of Upper Egypt. It is so conservative that boy children are removed from their mother's care at the age of four and are never no more. . . . Womenfolk live completely secluded within the walls of their own homes. No men servants are allowed to cross the threshold and these secluded lives have no feminine company except members of their own households. They cannot see their own male cousins or their husband's brothers. It is an ideal setup for a husband who wants to convince his wife he is the world's most perfect man. . . . In one of these villages some more daring women have taken to leaving their own homes occasionally to visit neighbor women friends. They are ladies of high rank and their sorties out into the world create quite a stir. They are surrounded by guards and all traffic in and out of the village and in the neighborhood of their visit is suspended. They themselves, of course, are heavily veiled. . . . No one is quite sure just who is being protected from whom or what but no one is taking any chances. . . . There is no place quite like Egypt for holidays. It is the true home of the "long weekend." Moslems celebrate Friday as a weekly holy day. Jews take Saturdays and Christians have their traditional Sundays off. Cairo barbers, not content with this wide choice, have their own special holiday. They hang up their shears and close shop on Mondays. . . . Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday are supposedly meatless days in Cairo restaurants, but chicken, duck, ham and tongue aren't considered as meat. And neither is veal. If you really want it, the restaurants serve anything you order and nobody thinks anything about it. . . . If you start to hail a taxi at least three nightbroed natives will begin running madly up and down the street trying to get a cab. And when one rolls up from the opposite direction they rush to open the door. For this service, unasked and unwanted you are expected to give "bakshesh" to each. . . . The only native of this class I met in Egypt who didn't ask for more money—no matter how much you overtip them—they ask for more is the Ohio penitentiary—was a dignified old Arab at the pyramids. He was extremely religious and had made pilgrimages to Mecca and Medina. . . . When I paid him his fee and asked if he were satisfied he replied: "A good name is much better than money. All the time shine like full moon." He must be a very lonesome man—in Egypt.

County Pays Out $213 from Fox Bounty Fund Marion county has paid out $213 of its $300 allotment for fox bounties.
According to reports, the sheriff's office has paid bounties of $3 for 71 foxes killed in the county this year. Commissioners appropriated $300 for the fox fund early this year, because the law requires that the appropriation not exceed one hundred times the amount of the bounty.
To secure the bounty, hunters must bring the four paws of the fox killed to the sheriff's office.

BAKED SEAFOOD SALAD... For Lenten meals...

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Associated Press Food Editor
There are many fascinating dishes which can be made with seafood for the Lenten season. Any one of those offered here would be perfect as a party entrée for luncheon or dinner. And they will surely make your family happy if you don't wait to serve them until company comes.

Baked Seafood Salad
1 1/2 cup chopped green pepper, 1/4 cup minced onion, 1 cup chopped celery, 1 cup cooked crab meat, 1 cup cooked shrimp, 1 cup mayonnaise, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 2 cups corn flakes, 2 tablespoons butter, paprika.
Combine green pepper, onion, celery, crab meat, shrimp, mayonnaise, salt and Worcestershire sauce. Mix lightly. Place mixture in individual shells or shallow baking dish. Sprinkle with crushed corn flakes and paprika, dot with butter. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) about 30 minutes. Serve with slices of lemon.

Norwegian Fish Pudding
1/2 pound codfish, 1/2 poundaddock, 2 egg whites, dash of pepper, dash of nutmeg, 1/2 teaspoon cornstarch, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 cup cream, 1 1/2 cups milk.
Clean fish carefully by scraping off skin and removing all bones. Put through fine grinder twice. Add white of one egg and grind twice more. Add all other ingredients, except milk and cream and grind twice more. Beat in one direction only with electric beater for a half hour, adding milk and cream little by little. Place in greased pudding pan and bake in 350 degree oven for one hour, or until pudding is like a solid custard dry enough to slice. Serve with lobster sauce.

Nerve-Shattered Jap Soldier Bares Story of Army Horrors By DUANE HENNESSY
AP Newsfeature Writer
TOKYO, March 21.—In a Tokyo suburb a family lies still in the darkness each night as a former Japanese army sergeant, broken by hunger and malaria, tries to tell the hell that he experienced in the South Pacific.
"We can eat that guy, too," he screams. "Hurry, many messkins full will be made!"
He fills his days by telling of emaciated men fighting over a single spider for food, crying like women as death gnawed at their stomachs, cursing their commander each morning as he forced them to read the Emperor Meiji's imperial rescript for soldiers and sailors.
Japs Learn Story
The Japanese people learned his story in their press today. It was pieced from his lucid moments and the shattered nights experienced by the family of the uncle who gave him a home. It is another chapter in the disaster of the war.

Farmer vs. Bradford Rated Battle of Midget Cagers

Only One Starter Hits Six-Foot Mark in Clash for Class B. Title.

By HAROLD HARRISON
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, O., March 21.—A team that probably will be the sentimental favorite and the lads who put an end to Northridge's hopes for a second straight state title will open Ohio's Class "B" finals in the high school basketball tournament at Springfield tomorrow night.

Although neither team was given much attention at the start of the tournament play, both have great records. Farmer, lost only one game in 31. Bradford has won 28 of 28 and one of those defeats was a one-point decision to Class "A" Piqua.

Farmer undoubtedly rates as one of the smallest schools ever to reach the semi-finals in a state tournament. There is an enrollment of only 65 and the population of the town is around 100. Few schools have compiled such a record as the Tigers over the last two seasons. They've won 55 of 57 games in that period.

One of the team is Leighton Fritz, a sharpshooting forward, who has tallied 1,505 points in four years of varsity competition.

Coach Ollie Zedaker, who has been coaching at Farmer for 11 years, is afraid his boys won't know how to act when they get up against a ball club of approximately the same size.

"We've been battling height all season," he said.

The team also has been noted for its blazing finishes.

Bradford's play has been marked by a fine defense. The railroaders have limited their opponents to an average of 23 1/2 points a game and only six times in 28 games has the team given up as many as 30 points.

Tallest boy on the starting five is center Marlan Weaver, who stands six-feet, one-inch and, lacking height, Coach Harry R. Moore has stressed speed and shiftness in the team's play.

Both towns seemed to be almost deserted during the regional last week and there will be more of the same Friday night. Their allotments of tickets are gone.

The 200 which were to go to Farmer's 100 people could have been sold out within an hour or so except that some were held back to be sure all of the students got seats.

This will be Farmer's first trip to the state finals but Bradford made the grade back in 1937—the first year of the Class "A" and "B" tournaments.

The Gothic cathedral reached its highest culmination in the 13th century, continuing in the 14th without great changes.

6 Local Teams to Roll in ABC Meet

By ART MYERS

Six live men teams, 16 doubles teams, and 32 singles from Marion will enter the A.B.C. bowling tournament, bowling's "World Series," being held in Buffalo during March, April and May. The A.B.C. schedule book shows entries from several individuals and teams from surrounding towns.

Two of the Marion teams will bowl on Saturday, April 6. They are Fahey Bank, captained by Barney Duetlin, and Banko Bar and Grill, captained by A. A. Wintersteller. Four teams will bowl Thursday, May 2. They are Marion Rapid Transit, captained by Ray Mag; Daggett's Chevrolet, captained by Loyd Ledley; Palace Recreation, captained by Alva Shull; and Rita Grill, captained by Donald Greenland.

Y-INDUS WILL TEST M'MILLEN CHAMPIONS

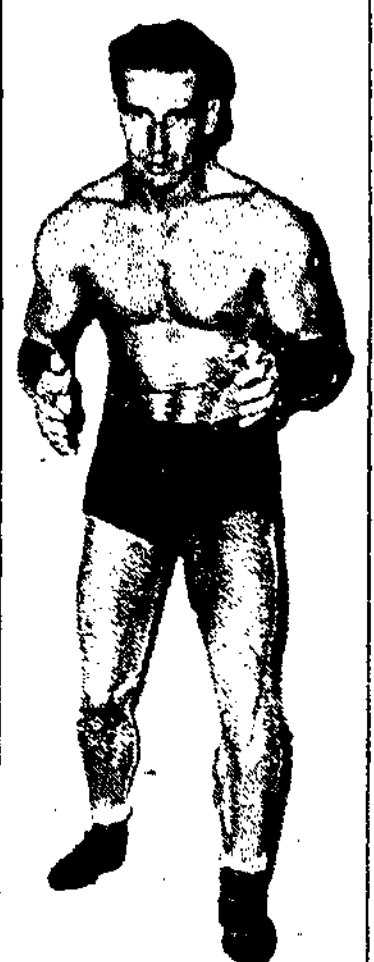

Clash To Top Friday Night Gold Medal Program.

McMillen will be risking a perfect record when they tangle with Y-Indus tomorrow night at the Y in the quarter finals of the Gold Medal tournament. They have won 22 out of as many starts while Y-Indus has won 33 out of 36. These two titans did not meet during the regular independent season and tomorrow night's game should be a "natural." The game is scheduled for 8:30 p. m. on the lower gym.

At 7:30 on the lower gym, a strong Lafayette Merchants team meets up with the Green Camp outfit. The Green Campers are in the quarter finals without playing previously as the result of a bye and a forfeit.

On the upper gym, Universal Cooler and Isaly will renew their feud at 7:30 while Morral Supply Co. with a 14-3 record plays DeMolay Alumni, an outfit of ex-harding stars.

Young Sandow, the clever boy with the body of a Greek God will team up with the popular Whitley Walberg in the Tag Team Match at the Marion Armory tonight. There will be two 30-minute matches to open the show at 8:30. Whitley Walberg will meet Ali Pasha in the one and Monty LaDue will meet Young Sandow in the other. The tournament schedule shows entries from 38 states, the District of Columbia and Canada. Total entries in the meet are 3,744 five men teams, 12,780 doubles, and 25,557 individuals.

New Records Seen for ABC Tourney
By The Associated Press
BUFFALO, N. Y., March 21.—As the second week of competition began today in the American Bowling Congress 43rd annual world championship tournament, a prediction was made that early high scores by 180-average bowlers were just a fore-runner of record ABC totals likely to be achieved by top-ranking contestants.

Buddy Bomar, ex-match game champion, said he believed new records would be made in every event before the tourney ends.

He pointed to the new all-time ABC mark of 554 for a single game in the doubles by the Buffalo duo of John Gworek and Henry Kwidowski, which skyrocketed the pair yesterday to the top of the two-man division with 1360 pins.

KENTUCKY NOSES OUT RHODE ISLAND 46-45 Wins Garden Title on Fouls, OSU Favored Tonight.

NEW YORK, March 21.—A sports story that always thrills—how the underdog won the championship against terrific odds—almost came true at Madison Square Garden last night.

The occasion was the final of the National Invitation Basketball tournament. Unseeded little Rhode Island State, upset conquerors of Bowling Green and Muhlenberg, led highly favored Kentucky, 45 to 44, with less than 30 seconds to play. A sellout crowd of 18,475 roared hysterically for the Rhodies to complete what would have been one of the season's best Cinderella yarns.

Then, skinny Ernie Calverley, Rhode Island star, fouled Malcolm Campbell of Kentucky. Campbell made good his charity toss and the score was tied with one minute left. Twenty seconds later Calverley fouled Ralph Beard and the substitute Wildcat player tossed in the free throw that won the title for the Southwestern conference champs, 46 to 45.

Interest now shifts to the eastern NCAA eliminations that open tonight at the Garden. In the first game Harvard, 20-1, tangles with Ohio State, 14-4, and Big Ten champion. In the feature New York U., 18-2, and North Carolina, 28-4, battle in a return contest. Early in the season North Carolina scored a surprise 43-41 win over NYU, but the Violets are favored to reverse the tables. Ohio State, because of its tougher competition, is favored over Harvard, beaten only by Holy Cross.

Braves Switch Infield
FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla.—Convinced by the Boston Braves owners that he has no chance of obtaining infielders Marty Marion or Whitley Kurovski from the St. Louis Cardinals, Manager Billy Southworth will try to make the best of it with another infield switch. Whitley Wietelmann will replace Nanny Fernandez at shortstop and the latter will move over to third base, thereby benching Sibby Sisti. Southworth plans to try out his new infield combination Saturday.

Sox Take on Cubs
PASADENA, Calif.—Johnny Rigney, Stan Goletz and Eddie Smith will share the pitching duties for the Chicago White Sox when they face the Chicago Cubs at Los Angeles today. The Sox will play the Pittsburgh Pirates a doubleheader at San Diego Sunday instead of the originally scheduled single game.

Tigers Have Openings
LAKELAND, Fla.—Second base, third base and centerfield were the big question marks in the Detroit Tigers' lineup today with the opening of the American league race less than a month away. Eddie Mayo, Tigers' second-base man last year, and Barney McCosky, pre-war centerfielder, are on the invalid list for the time being and Pinky Higgins is beginning to show a little wear and tear at third base.

By The Associated Press
CLEARWATER, Fla., March 21.—If the Cleveland Indians have recovered sufficiently from their exhausting "track meet" against the Yankees at St. Petersburg yesterday, they'll see what they can do against the Cincinnati Reds here today.

The Indians took their sixth victory of the Grapefruit circuit by downing the New Yorkers, 16 to 8.

What made the contest remarkable was that Cleveland made only 10 hits and the Yankees 7.

Free rides accounted for the rest of the travel around the bases, with a hit batter and a wild pitch thrown in for good measure.

On the Yankee side, Bill Zuber, the loser, walked five in four innings. Al Lyons three in four, and John Maloney five in one. For the Indians, Don Black, the winner, walked five in five innings. Ed Kieman five in 2 1-3 and Hal Kline two in 1 2-3. Black tossed the wild throw and Zuber hit Dutch Meyer.

Marion Country Club Hires New Pro, Formerly at Lima

Al Polagyi, Specialist in Instruction, To Start Classes March 30; Once Taught Patty Berg.

Al Polagyi, recently of Lima, has been hired as golf professional at the Marion Country club, the club board of directors announced today. He will begin instruction Saturday, March 30. Although the pro shop and the golf course will be open then, the directors said the club house and the locker rooms would not be opened until a later date.

Polagyi, who has been the professional at the Shawnee Country club in Lima the last four years, specializes mostly in instruction and rarely plays tournament golf. He is one of the originators of group instruction and has coached as high as 50 golfers at a single lesson.

Taught Patty Berg
During a stay as professional at the Hollywood Beach hotel, Hollywood, Fla., he instructed Patty Berg, now national women's amateur golfing champion.

Some of the other clubs at which he has served are the Fort Lauderdale, Fla. Golf and Country club, the Kalkwa club at Erie, Pa., the Smethport, Pa. Country club, the Maplehurst Country club at Jamestown, N. Y., and the Huntingdon, Pa. Country club.

Equipment Scarce
Polagyi said golfing equipment, while still rather scarce, would be adequate for instruction purposes. Synthetic golf balls now being manufactured are nearly as good as the prewar product, he reports.

Country club officials said the greens will be in excellent shape for the opening of the pro shop. Some of the harder members have played this winter, they said, during the few days the weather gave the nod.

Due to the housing shortage, Polagyi is living at the Country club. He succeeds David Stevens who left here last fall after a two-season tour.

Team Wrestling Show at Armory Tonight
A tag team match is on tonight's wrestling card at the armory with Ali Pasha and Monty LaDue challenging Whitley Walberg and Young Sandow. Pasha and LaDue are good on the rough stuff while the Walberg-Sandow team will win their hopes on speed and cleverness.

Two 30-minute prelims will head the show at 8:30 p. m. Ali Pasha will wrestle Whitley Walberg in the first match and Monty LaDue will meet Young Sandow in the other.

Old Foe of Baseball Chains Now Builds One

Leslie O'Connor, Aide to Judge Landis, Must Boost White Sox Farms To Remain in Race.

AP Newsfeatures Sports Writer
CHICAGO—The judge's right hand man has stepped into a new role and although going through a metamorphosis in his baseball point of view is concerned, he likes it. That's Leslie Michael O'Connor, new general manager of the Chicago White Sox, one of baseball's top figures for 25 years, but who, of necessity, will take a new slant on the game when the season opens in Comiskey Park April 18. O'Connor, and purely by accident, too, became secretary to the late Kenesaw Mountain Landis when baseball mogul decided they needed a high commissioner following the infamous "Black Sox" scandal nearly three decades ago.

For 24 years, as Landis' right hand man, O'Connor delved into baseball law, wrote briefs on cases the judge was to decide, and was a relentless foe of the baseball farm system.

Now he is building up a farm system for the White Sox. "I like it here," he said across a desk covered with papers, letters and player contracts in Comiskey Park. "We have a lot of rebuilding to do, and we're going to do it. A lot can be accomplished with the White Sox, and I feel that within a year or two we can be a first-division team, a pennant contender. "We hope to develop most of our own players down in the minors and bring them up to the Sox. Instead of relying for the most part on purchases."

Did that mean the man who proposed the revolutionary "Landis plan" that would abolish farms altogether had switched to a "pro-

ANAHEIM, Calif.—Some of the wartime champions will rate dinges, but St. Louis may not have to sing the blues over the Browns. American League pennant winners in 1944 and a strong third last year, Luke Sewell's Brownies are bolstered by a flock of promising newcomers and returning veterans.

Nobody connected with the club—least of all Sewell—is popping off about the team's chances, but there is an undertone of quiet optimism about the Browns' camp. "There's a lot of talk about the Yankees and the Red Sox making a runaway of this year's race," says Sewell wryly. "But they've got to beat us on the field first." The former catcher is beginning his fourth full season as skipper of the Browns.

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

"YOU will know why—both of you—in a few minutes," I told my husband and his niece. "But first, I must find out what Mother's condition is."

"You said I wasn't to go in," Mary said with childish resentment, as I started for the door, but the next instant she had rushed after me, and taken me into her arms with a remorseful hug that nearly cost me a cracked rib—or so it seemed to me.

Mary Seeks Forgiveness

"I'm a beast, also a heel," she said. "Please forgive me that crack."

"I've not only forgiven it, but forgotten it," I told her placidly. "Now go back and talk quietly with your uncle while I go next door."

"I warn you," she said plaintively, "that you may find a Tom and a Tabby stretched out lifeless from frustrated curiosity when you return."

"I'll have to take that risk," I said, smiling as I left.

When I tapped lightly on the door of the adjoining apartment, Katharine opened it almost immediately. She put her finger to her lips, slipped the catch on the door, and stepped out into the hall, closing the door to the crack, behind her.

Mother Grim Asleep

"She's asleep in the bedroom," she said, "and she's going to be all right. Don't worry, and reassure Dicky as quickly as you can. He was awfully worried. I could see, and worry isn't so good for him."

"I know," I said, "and I shall go back and tell him in a minute. But I have something to ask you before I go back. First, am I keeping you from Mother?"

"No," she answered. "I told you that she was perfectly all right."

"Then here's my problem," I said. "I think you've heard of Olga's plan to have everybody come up here for luncheon."

"Yes," she said, with a wry little smile which betrayed her sympathy with Mary's pessimistic attitude toward the elder Verilens' formal luncheons. "Olga telephoned her invitation awhile ago."

"It will be out of the question for Mother to attend?" I queried next.

"Absolutely," she said with emphasis, stressing the word.

"And she will have to have somebody staying with her?"

"Katharine Will Stay?"

"Of course," she said, adding in matter-of-fact tones, "and I am that somebody."

"No," I protested. "That isn't fair. If she's over the attack, and resting, she doesn't need professional care, does she?"

"She may not need it, but she's going to get it, nevertheless," she said dryly. "Look here. Try to look at this thing sensibly. Jack and I are not even 'buttonhole relations' to the Philip Verilens. We like them, and we admire them, but if we never should see them again, we would merely regret the loss of pleasant acquaintances; there would be no gaping empty aching space in our lives. See what I mean?"

"Yes, I suppose so," I said.

"Added to that," she said crisply, "take the fact that Jack and I would both be bored to death by the luncheon. He would go, of course, if I did. But when I tell him he doesn't have to attend, he'll be singing little psalms of thankfulness all the afternoon. So, please put your little quail of conscience back in whatever chest you took them out of—don't you admire my location of propositions?—but I'm in a hurry, and go back and tell Dicky his mother is going to be all right."

"You're always present and voting, whenever I need you," I told her warmly. "And I don't mind telling you that you've solved a problem for me. Mary wanted to sit by her grandmother instead of attending the luncheon, but there's a reason which I'll tell you later why she must attend."

"Then," Katharine said cautiously, "will you tell me why in the world you didn't come right out in meeting and say so? But, of course, being you, you wouldn't. But here's something else. What about Faith? Don't you want us to take care of her?"

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN RUNDENSEN, M.D.

Earache

A sharp cry in the night and a little hand cupped over the ear. These for most mothers are the signals which warn that baby is in for a bout of earache.

Earache is one of the most widespread of afflictions, so widespread, doctors estimate, that everyone suffers from it at some time during his life. The pain may vary from an occasional twinge to acute distress, starting suddenly and demanding immediate relief.

Just as it may have many degrees of severity, so earache may have many causes, and unless the cause in the individual case is found, treatment may not be successful.

Earache includes pain in or about the ear. It may be brought on by some condition affecting the ear itself, such as an infection, in which case Doctor William M. Morrison of England calls the condition, otitis media, or the pain may be due to some infection of the tissues around the ear in which the condition is called otalgia.

In order to find the cause of pain due to trouble with the ear, itself, a careful examination of the external ear, the ear canal and the ear drum is needed. The mastoid back of the ear as well as the scalp above and behind the ear also should be examined.

The majority of earaches are due to infection in the skin of the external ear or in the middle ear. Injuries and tumors may also be responsible for earache. Sometimes, the pain is due only to a boil in the external ear canal.

As a rule, this may easily be discovered by examination. If the external ear is pulled backward and the pain becomes worse it is likely that a boil in the ear canal is responsible.

Other signs of such infection are tenderness in front or behind the ear due to swelling of the lymph glands in these areas. Wax in the ear canal, some bit of material such as a marble or pea which gets into the ear may also cause pain. The pain in the ear may also be due to disturbances of certain of the nerves which pass to the ear.

Neuralgia and shingles may be responsible. Acute tonsillitis may be accompanied by discomfort in the ears and a quincy sore throat often is accompanied by an earache. After an operation for removal of the tonsils, earache is common for the first few days. Ulcers and sores on the tongue as well as decayed teeth are common causes of pain in the ear.

Of course, the successful treatment of earache demands that the cause of the condition be determined and removed. Sometimes, a careful study by the ear specialist is necessary.

PIANO JOINS THREE R'S

Cost Is Cut to 27.7 Cents a Lesson.

NIMBLE ON THE KEYS are these 7-year-olds learning finger exercises and note reading from Miss Merrie Lynch, their teacher. It's Carolyn Zeman's turn at the piano.

By ELEANOR GRIESNER

Associated Press Writer

BALTIMORE—Who says music lessons have to be in the luxury brackets, stretching family budgets? In Baltimore, they only cost 27.7 cents a lesson.

Before the Baltimore public schools took over, parents economized so Johnny could have piano lessons, only to find out he either couldn't or wouldn't play. Added to this were the wasted talents of children with ability never got a chance to learn music.

Today, six hundred youngsters, second to fifth grade, are getting a musical education along with the three "R's." Classes of ten meet for an hour a week for a two-year course. That gives children an excellent background for further study and appreciation of music.

Johnny, if he is very talented, can even major in music when he gets to high school. Two of his five courses will be music theory and practice, and the other three regular academic courses.

And if Johnny doesn't take to the piano, it isn't too late to redirect his energy to some other activity. Meanwhile classical music and a symphony orchestra have ceased to be mysteries to him.

The children use table-top key-boards in class when they aren't taking turns at the piano. Ducts are one way the teacher doubles up on the use of the piano. Although many of the children don't have pianos in their homes, they can arrange to practice on the school instrument before and after classes and at lunch time.

Oscar F. Steinwald, supervisor of instrumental music in the public schools, says private teachers approve the program since it introduces more children to a basic understanding of music.

The program started six years ago with a grant of $172,100 from the Carnegie Corp. of New York to finance a community plan for education in art and music. While the grant lasted, lessons were free, but only to about 115 students. Now the classes pay for themselves, and there are about 600 youngsters enrolled.

Instrumental instruction, beginning with fourth grade pupils, is offered to about 100 students meeting in centers for the French horn, clarinet, violin and flute.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 million of tiny tubules which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up at night. Frequent uric acid passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pen and energy, swelling, stiffness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 million of kidney tubules flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Mrs. Donald Phelps Named P.T.A. Head

Mrs. Donald Phelps was elected to serve as president of the Oakland school P.T.A. when election of officers was held at a meeting Tuesday afternoon at the school.

Mrs. Lowell Pollock was elected first vice president; Miss Vivian Pessell, second vice president; Mrs. Edward Craft, secretary; Mrs. Lee Wedertz, treasurer; Mrs. Cecil Noble, council representative; and Mrs. Burl Bristol, alternate council representative.

The group voted to send Mrs. Phelps and Mrs. Pollock to a P.T.A. conference to be held in Newark, March 28. A cafeteria supper which was to be held this month was postponed until April 28. A program was presented by the Girl Scouts and Cub Scouts of the school. The fifth grade, with Miss Marguerite Howser as teacher, had the largest number of mothers present.

In the first two years of its life, the little blue heron is white.

Old Bob Died in 1925

ASIDE from Wisconsin's internal politics, named as the immediate reason for the breakup of the Progressive party, the real reason for the party's decision to join the Republicans is the fact its founder has been dead for 21 years.

Robert M. LaFollette built up with oratory and integrity one of the most loyal followings in American politics. He was assisted by the stubborn corruption of the major parties. To this day, the original members of his following revere his name and principles. But a fifth of a century is a long time. Lacking a dynamic leader, the Progressives in Wisconsin and the out-of-state converts who gave Old Bob one-sixth of the presidential votes in 1924 were held together by nothing but their common memory of the movement's founder. To give the heir to his political legacy their due, the wonder is not that Progressivism has lost its momentum but that they keep it going under its dwindling steam for a fifth of a century.

It takes little imagination to find a parallel in what is happening to the personal following of Franklin D. Roosevelt. In less than a year after his death, the Roosevelt following is falling away from the heirs. It will not take 21 years to complete the breakup of the minority that believed Mr. Roosevelt could do no wrong but already are wondering if his political successors can do any right.

Any Scrap Steel, Mister?

CPA, which in this case does not stand for certified public accountant but civilian production administration, has asked the country to collect 2,000,000 tons of iron and steel scrap in the next half year to meet needs for housing and production of consumer goods.

This scrap must be collected in the United States, the agency explains, because the flow of battlefield scrap metal that was expected to materialize is not going to materialize. But it does not explain why. Nor does it explain why hundreds of thousands of tons of scrap are going to be sent to the bottom of the ocean in atomic bomb tests, instead of being saved for manufacture of steel. It is not CPA's job to explain why and wherefore, but to round up enough scrap metal to give steel mills an assured supply.

Meanwhile the fact is that the United States seriously has depleted its available reserves of not only processed metals but original sources and apparently is about to write them off as a net loss. Remembering the wartime scrap drives, when everything depended on keeping steel mills supplied with the wherewithal to do their part in a war of production, many of us are wondering what could be more important at this time than to bring back every ton of iron and steel that can be rounded up overseas. It was, it is, and increasingly will be an invaluable national asset.

The Lesson Stuck

ONE of the valuable byproducts of World War II was the lesson that rubber is a vital commodity. The report made by the government's interagency committee on rubber accepts this and applies it to the problem of future security. The United States must never be caught short on rubber again.

The United States could have lost World War II by its natural rubber deficiency, a major objective of Japanese strategy. The disaster was narrowly averted at enormous expense by quick development of a synthetic industry. Chief question of future rubber policy is the postwar fate of this industry.

The government committee's report advocates a balancing of the rubber supply between synthetic and natural rubber, with the former to be turned over as rapidly as possible to private ownership. Public security is to be guaranteed by stockpiling of natural rubber and maintenance of synthetic plants on a stand-by basis.
The whole field of rubber supply is to be canvassed systematically by research under government encouragement and, in some instances, government subsidy. These necessities, obvious now, were not obvious just before the beginning of war. Government then, though aware of the imminence of a war which inevitably would cut off natural rubber sources in the Pacific, was not sufficiently impressed with rubber's role in the national economy to take more than nominal precautions—an error that came periciously close to crippling war production while creation of a synthetic industry hung in the balance.

News Behind the News

Mass of Propaganda Buries Facts About Food.

food situation is so deeply buried beneath a mulch of propaganda a dozen farmers could not pitch it off in a year.

We were feeding wheat to hogs only last year and the year before, and now we have to eat black wheat in bread. Yet we still have a prospective surplus of 150,000,000 bushels for the end of the crop year, and crop prospects are good. The late winter provided good moisture throughout the breadbasket section of the farm belt. Winter wheat looks fine in most areas. There is no deficiency in supply.

Many stories have been told about the black wheat order, both as to its causes and effects. The one which I believe has not been told as far as I know is that the change does not make much difference, as far as increasing the available supply of wheat. My most trustworthy experts tell me the order contemplated leaving a mole more of the dark husk in the ground wheat. It did not contemplate any deterioration in the quality of flour, and has had less influence upon white bread than upon darker bread. The saving will be limited in amount to the quantity of husk left in the flour —which cannot be much. As far as health is concerned, the vitamin content of the new flour would be reduced by only the same mile of replacement.

Official Position
This is the official position in the matter, and any deterioration in the quality of the flour or bread is what might be called unofficial.
Some parties may be taking advantage of the government order to foist poor products off on the public at the same old price.

The so-called black bread step therefore appears primarily a stragem to bring home to the people the necessity for food conservation — a stragem which opens an excuse for abuses, a deterioration in quality and secret price increases, and is a typical old Rooseveltian method of "bringing things home to the people."

The move for curtailment of portions in restaurants opens similar vistas. The OPA issued this order and specified the same old high prices should be charged for the smaller portions. If the government wanted to save food for Europe, the natural thing would have been to cut the prices as well as the portions. That would have saved both the food and the consumer. But by this old Roose-veltian way of doing the thing, the public is wheedled into another hidden price increase of inestimable proportion because the restaurants can reduce quality, spend nearly anything they have left in the icebox and excuse themselves by saying to the customer—"we are feeding the starving in Europe."

Enlistment of Mr. Hoover to head the campaign on the newly discovered famine in Europe therefore may not represent the complete overhauling of the food program I thought was first indicated.

Hoover's Position

Exactly what Mr. Hoover is to be doing is not clear. He did not immediately get the Lehman job in the little UNRRA, but only the prestige of leadership and went off to Europe to find the scope of the famine, which must be apparent to our armed forces on the ground there since last fall.
Indeed, Mr. Hoover reeled off all kinds of figures about it before leaving.

What do these strange events mean? For once, I am stopped by the confusions of Washington. I am asking for the answers.

A GOOD ORGANIZATION

BUT DOOMED TO DIE YOUNG

A strictly feminine veterans' post in being formed in Washington. It being still in the organization stage, no plans have been announced, as yet for the inevitable men's auxiliary.

Nevertheless, its formation is still had news for hundreds of husbands who henceforth will have to mind the kiddies while Ma attends the weekly smokers.

One can just see the ex-servicladies in years to come, waddling along in Armistice Day parades, their old uniforms straining at the seams—the bogirdled veterans of formal wars.

It might even grow into a national convention, with annual conventions, and everything, including the stilted horseplay, the dropping of water-filled paper bags from hotel windows and the moleating of men in the street.

Yes, the femvets are currently a force to be reckoned with.
Any day now I expect to read of them organizing a march on the nation's capitol, demanding a bonus of nylops.

ten years at most. After 1955, no woman's going to admit she's old enough to have participated in the war.

Security As Basis of Peace

By Walter Lippmann

THE ground on which there is the best chance, so it seems to me, of a meeting of minds between the Russians and ourselves is on the strategy of military security.

This was the ground on which there was collaboration during the war, and as long as military considerations were paramount, the ideological differences were subordinated. After victory the only real basis of our political collaboration, namely objective military necessity, was lost.

Since then, the political leaders in both countries, and also in Great Britain, have inaugurated a race of armaments which must lead by logical logic, if it is not stopped decisively, to the most devastating conflict in the history of mankind.

This race of armaments cannot be stopped by political debate and legal argument. It can be stopped only by a thorough military understanding—resting upon the realities of the weapons, tactics, and the strategy of modern war—among the men in all three countries who are the ultimate and responsible advisers on the subject of national security.

Yet it is increasingly evident that military thinking in the three capitals has deteriorated since the armistice, that the political leaders have been acting upon superficial, abstruse, second-rate and self-contradictory military ideas.

For us it is, of course, easiest to see this in the case of the Russians, a little harder to see in the case of the British, and hardest of all to see in our own case.

Poor Defense
Thus we can see quite readily that while the Russian system of satellite states is a good defense against a reconstituted German army, it is a very poor defense against the very danger which the Russians profess to fear—namely encirclement, blockade and attack by the so-called capitalist states.
For little countries are not a buffer against the kind of long-range sea and air power which we possess.
We could cross them at will, and in no time at all.

Moreover, against sea and air power Russia can never obtain free access to the sea except by agreement. She could take the Dardanelles, the Dodecanese Islands, Trieste, the head of the Persian Gulf, and fortify them, and still she would not have free access to the sea except by agreement with us. For sea and air power could still stop the movement of ships.

Therefore, Russia alone can never keep the Mediterranean open at the Dardanelles, not even at Suez and Gibraltar. We could still close the Dardanelles effectively without having a ship within 1,000 miles.

But with our collaboration the Dardanelles can now be kept open.
The Germans alone could close the straits by coming overland. The British and Americans alone could close them by sea. Therefore the secure passage of Russian ships through the straits can be obtained only by the military pact which they have with us to hold the Germans in check and to remain maritime allies within the United Nations.

So we see that it is a crude fallacy of Russian military thinking to suppose that the Soviet Union can achieve access to the sea against our consent and without our cooperation. But in our own thinking we have been the victims of equally crude military ideas. It is most evident when we discuss the atomic bomb.

We are, for example, very much upset at the disclosure by the Canadian government that secrets have been given to the Soviet government. It is indeed upsetting, and the accused men, if they are proved guilty, have dishonored themselves. But what else does it prove?

It proves, does it not, that even in wartime, even with the best efforts of Gen. Groves and the intelligence services of the three English-speaking allies, it was not possible to keep this military secret. What then are the chances of keeping it in time of peace, when no matter what kind of legislation Congress devises, the control of the scientists and technicians must inevitably be relaxed?

No Security in Monopoly

The Canadian disclosures, far from being a Gen. Groves's right in his philosophy, show that his philosophy is quite unworkable. It was unworkable even when he had infinitely more power than he can ever hope to have again. Gen. Groves was supposed to guard the secret, and he didn't.
That is what the Canadian affair proves.

It proves, therefore, that there is no hope of security for us by attempting to monopolize the secret. There are then only two real alternatives left. The one is to use the atomic bomb, not merely to guard it, but to use it as a deterrent. The other is to control it by agreement.

To put the matter brutally and bluntly, we must either fight a preventive war, or we must fight the very near future, or we must make up our minds that we shall reach behind the iron curtain for a military agreement with the Russians. For if we do not fight a preventive war and do not get an agreement, we shall in the end fight a war of extermination which will be as indecisive as it is horrible.

Since the path on which the three governments are now stumbling along is one that leads in the end to war, they must con-

U. S. and the Mediterranean

By Raymond Moley

MAR. CHURCHILL'S speech at the big New York dinner in his honor was a severe test for a major statesman. Those who attended came with immense good will and admiration for the man.

Their admiration led to almost unreasonable expectations. As an eye-witness at the occasion, I seemed to this reporter that Mr.
Churchill could have met this ellipsis in one of two ways. He could have put forward some new and unusual suggestions for commenting an Anglo-American front or he could have been frankly reminiscent of the glorious past.
In the second of these possible offerings, his incomparable oratory and the real unity which he achieved with us in 1940 would have been most effective.

Mr. Churchill did neither of these things, however. In substance, he added very little to his speech in Missouri. Most concrete were his remarks about the Dardanelles. Russia, he said, should have free passage, but no fortifications on the straits.

Major Issue

This brings up one of the major issues before the Big Three—an issue about which the United States should make its policy clear. What, essentially, are our interests in the Mediterranean?

Big Treasure Hunt Forecast

That hundreds of ships sunk during the World War II will be available through modern salvage methods for junking or reconstruction during the postwar period is the opinion of Lt. Harry E. Riesberg, marine salvage expert, as expressed in his recent book, "Treasure Hunter."

Caterpillar tanks, covering the ocean's bottom 2,000 feet, below the surface are one of the improvements he forecasts which will aid in gigantic salvage and treasure retrieving operations.
Pontoon vessels capable of raising submerged vessels from depths heretofore thought impossible are also forecast.

Basis for predictions is the performance of a diving bell which withstood pressure at 438 feet to salvage $12,500,000 from British ship, Niagara, during the war. The same bell, the writer points out, is capable of withstanding pressure down to 1,000 feet, while other improvements point to recovery of vast fortunes dating back to the gold of the Spanish Main.

They are important and easy to define.

1. We are directly interested in the shortest sea route to the Middle East and to certain sections of the Far East. We are, therefore, interested in having the Suez Canal under a control on which we can confidently rely. We are interested in having the sea route from Gibraltar to Suez reliably held. We are also concerned in keeping Greece at least neutral between the Russian and British spheres of influence. With this in mind, perhaps we are preparing to help Greece with a loan quite out of proportion to her size and economic importance.

2. We are also interested in a reliably held control of the Dardanelles. That means access by us, as well as by Russia. The actions of Turkey in the recent war are now fully known. Turkey was well paid for friendship, not only by regaining territory lost after the first World War, but, later, by land-loans from the United States. But Turkey did a profitable business with Hitler and also permitted German ships to slip into the Black Sea. There is a basic need to see that the Dardanelles, by mutual agreement, should never again be closed to Russia, to Britain and to the United States. To leave control exclusively to Turkey would mean unending intrigue by the great powers with and within Turkey.

Russian claims for former Italian colonies can be dismissed as trading talk. The Soviet's real need is access to the Mediterranean and, in a free world, that ought to be satisfied.
The United States can well insist on a frank and open settlement of the Mediterranean problem on the basis of common recognition of freedom of the use of Suez and the Dardanelles. The sponser this is cleared up, the sooner the Big Three can go on to other Russian claims.

Miss Hill.—Your knees are shaking.

Miss Hill.—And why not?
Miss Hill.—What have you to be so afraid of?
War Knight.—You know what I've got to go through... the old plantation where I had a movie actor and become vicious...

Miss Hill.—Put things in the proper order. You become vicious and then bite the movie actor!

War Knight.—Okay. Anyhow, I'm vicious and the owner gives the order to shoot me or pull down the river... then comes the scene where the little girl overhears the order... and the goody bit in the stall where she and I get to understand each other... and I lick her on the forehead.

Miss Hill.—We can leave that last part out.
War Knight.—Not in a Hollywood race scene.
Miss Hill.—Well, I plan to make it different.
I'll change it to a little boy. No, that's been done too, I'll make it twins!

War Knight.—Nix. I'll settle for the original idea. Then comes the part where the girl me and I run away, jump through a baker's son, who's once in the English Derby and then the love scenes and all those secret trials at dawn.

Miss Hill.—You're an awful scoundrel about always strikes me as funny... the part where the two lowlives named Al Baba and Sam laugh, and they leave the horse out!

Miss Hill (firmly).—This time I'm resolved to do a true race story, a genuine picture of the War Knight.—What will you do when you come to that part where the right jockey gets am never a half mile behind the pack?

Miss Hill.—I intend to reproduce the Santa Anita. At no time in the race will you be out that I won? Are you going to stick to that?

suburb, Lincoln's wife, Laura, an expectant mother, described her husband as "a wonderful husband and father" and as "first refused to believe he was in custody." Later she talked to her husband in jail and said she will "stick up him" and will obtain legal counsel. Their children are a daughter, 3 and James III, 3.

As she fled, he fired at her several times with a .22 caliber rifle he had in the car.
He then pushed her into her farm home, a half mile away, and found her father working in a field. He told him what had happened and suggested that Williams telephone the sheriff.

These officials and states on Lee's staff said it would take unanimous agreement of the 11 security council members to obtain a postponement of the March 23 opening that would mean the United States would have to concur, and it was said that this country has no intention of concurring.
The American argument as it is developing is that in a case of this sort, where Russian troops are spreading over Iranian territory and the situation is full of explosive possibilities, the nation which considers itself aggrieved has a right to the quickest remedies at the council's disposal. In this case a full hearing involving not only the prestige of the council but also the power of public opinion.

See Ullricher Modre
American concern over the consequences of a delay is that Russia would be given additional critical time in which to pursue her announced objectives in Iran, making use of the continued presence of her army there.
In his letter to Lie Steinhilber made two requests:
That consideration of Iran's complaint of Russian troops remaining on Iranian soil and of Soviet interference in Iranian affairs be placed at the head of the agenda of the security council.
That both Iran and Russia be requested to request the council to their recently held direct negotiations for settlement of their dispute.

Closed U. S. Stations
WASHINGTON, March 21—The Navy has let it be known "unofficially" that a Russian reconnaissance station set up in Siberia under an agreement reached at Potsdam.
Capt. Arthur Cumberland, who commanded one of the stations, and Capt. Samuel Frankel, former Naval attaché at Murmansk, told the story in a statement and news conference in the Navy department press room.
However, the Navy public relations section said later the two spoke for themselves and the account was not official.
